

Contents

Preface. Relationality of the canon	3
REPETITIONS
Alicja Baluch Poetic „cross sections” – from Trembecki to Grochowiak	9
CONTINUATIONS AND REVISIONS
Radosław Sztzyber Poland from the perspective of the 18th century in the prophetic visions of Wojciech Dembołęcki	15
Beata Garlej Ingarden’s understanding of the notions of content and form of a literary work of art	31
Katarzyna Starachowicz (De)canonizing dimensions of a philosophical tale. Casus by Jerzy Szaniawski	48
Arkadiusz Sylwester Mastalski An unfaithful phrase. Semantics of the enjambment in Mieczysław Jasturn’s translations of Das Buch der Bilder by Rainer Maria Rilke	64
Anna Spólna „I hear their voices”. Hymnus trium puerorum by Jarosław Iwaszkiewicz in comparison with Dziady by Adam Mickiewicz	76
Katarzyna Wądołny-Tatar Variety of poetic treaties by Urszula Koziół	89
Przemysław Rojek My autumn, the sore legs of my mother, the public houses of my Lublin friends. Eugeniusz Tkaczyszyn-Dycki and imitating nothing	103
Iwona Pięta The effect of a breakthrough, or whether talking about the canon makes sense	116
Ewa Kołodziejczyk When Miłosz and Masłowska enter the metro	128

[192]

Filip Szafasek

The poetics of an empty city.

Urban landscapes in catastrophic science fiction

138

DEBUTS

Kalina Grzegorzcyk

Ryszard Kapuściński's non-canonical reportage – Podróże z Herodotem

158

PARATEXTS AND COMMENTS

Magdalena Roszczynialska

„It amused me to recreate something in a particular style...”.

Magdalena Roszczynialska's talk with Hanna Sokołowska, the author of Kosa, czyli ballada kryminalna o Nowej Hucie

170

Zbigniew Bauer

Important book about important issues

183